ORDER OF THE IMITATION OF CHRIST (BETHANY ASHRAM)

Bethany Ashram is a clerical congregation of religious priests and brothers of Pontifical Right. Bethany, formally called the Order of the Imitation of Christ (OIC), is the first indigenous religious congregation founded in the Malankara Church at Perunadu in Kerala. Bethany beautifully blends the spirit of both the Oriental Monastic Tradition and Indian Sanyasa. The Charism of the Order of the Imitation of Christ is to follow Jesus Christ in His life of prayer and action, to experience constant union with God through meditation, the liturgical life of the Church, and the observance of the spiritual exercises prescribed in the Holy Rule.

- Foundation : 15 August 1919
- Reunion : 20 September 1930
- Pontifical Status : 14 April 1966
- Province Erection : 24 May 2000
- Founder : Venerable Mar Ivanios OIC

Fr. P.T. Geevarghese Panickaruveetil OIC started the first Christian religious community in the Malankara Church on August 15, 1919, at Mundanmala, Perunnad-Ranni, Kerala. In a short time, Bethany Ashram and its beloved founder came into the limelight of the Malankara Orthodox Syrian Church. Abo Geevarghese OIC was consecrated Bishop of Bethany on May 1, 1925, and received the new name Mar Ivanios OIC.

His relentless search for truth in the ascetical atmosphere of Bethany Ashram led him to the firm conviction to reunite with the Catholic Church on September 20, 1930, together with Mar Theophilos OIC, the first Guru of Bethany Ashram. Pope Pius XI established the Syro-Malankara Catholic hierarchy for the reunited community on June 11, 1932, through the Apostolic Constitution Cristo Pastorum Principi. On July 15, 1953, the Archbishop offered his soul to the Heavenly Father.

Bethany Ashram initiated the Cause of Canonization of Mar Ivanios on July 15, 1997, and the Canonical Petition was submitted on July 15, 2005. On July 14, 2007, Cardinal Mar Baselios Cleemis Catholicos proclaimed Mar Ivanios a Servant of God. On March 14, 2024, Pope Francis declared Archbishop Mar Ivanios as Venerable.
